

Privacy Policy

The following information describes how we use the information we gather about visitors to our web site.

Information We Collected and Stored Automatically

We employ software programs to monitor and log all network traffic on our servers. We do this for site management and to identify attempts to upload, change or otherwise access our servers without authorization.

With regards to site management, information is collected for statistical purposes only. The information collected may include:

- The domain and IP address you used while you were visiting
- The date and time you access our site
- The pages you visited while you were at our site
- Status codes and resulting from the server responding to your request

We use this information for internal review and product evaluation only. No personal information is collected or used for this analysis.

Cookies

Some areas of our site may use cookies. When we do set a cookie, it contains information we need for security, and allows us to 'time out' your authority to view certain information, or tell us what information we should give you on this visit. We place the cookie with instructions that it can only be sent to a server in our domain (homecu.com, homecu.net). A cookie cannot be used to extract data from your PC. We do not store any Access Code, User Id or Password in any cookie.

Information Collected from E-mails and Forms On Our Site

When you send us personally identifying information in an email or by filling out a form on our site, we use this information to fulfill or respond to your request. We may store these requests for future responses to you. It is sometimes necessary for us to forward your request to the correct person or organization on our server in order to properly respond to your request. We do not give, sell or transfer personal information to third parties for other purposes unless required to do so by law.
