DMS, Inc., and FedComp, Inc., Announce Key Agreement to Migrate Credit Unions to the HomeCU Service

Boise, ID – September 24th, 2012 – DMS, Inc., today announced a key agreement with FedComp Inc., to transition all 130 FedComp VirtualCU clients to the HomeCU product. This new agreement gives FedComp credit unions a migration path to the HomeCU service as FedComp sunsets their VirtualCU Internet banking product. “We strive to provide the best possible solutions for our credit unions,” stated Robert Duff, President and Chief Executive Officer of FedComp. “We already have a great relationship with DMS, our credit unions love them, and migrating all our credit unions to the HomeCU product is a strategic decision that allows us to focus our resources on providing the best product offerings for our clients and their members.”

“We are excited to expand our relationship with FedComp to give all their credit unions the best Internet home banking solution possible,” said Joe Pearson, President, Database Management Services, Inc. Pearson continued, “FedComp is an open, customer-centric company. They understand the complexities of providing 24/7 home banking and are constantly looking for ways to improve their product offerings through innovation and partnering in order to ultimately meet the changing needs of their clients’ members.”
